MARRIAGE A LA MODE.

In Germany, there are many old customs still observed by brides.

For instance, it is considered most unlucky for a bride to wear pearls, for every one she may wear, her husband will cause her to shed a tear.

Sometimes, however, the bride will risk wearing them enclosed in a small casket or locked, so long as they are covered she need not fear, but if exposed a flood of tears necessarily must follow.

ARILENE WOMAN MARRIES AMARILLO ENGINEER

Abilene Reporter: An impressive and beautiful ceremony took place Wednesday evening of this week uniting in marriage Miss Alta Moore of this city and A. H. White of Amarillo, and was said at the home of the bride, 1046 Oak Street.

The rooms had been given a most beautiful decoration, a color theme of pink and white being used, and carried out with beauty in the lovely pink and white carnations, which were used most artistically. The ring ceremony was said by Rev. Knuffer, and was witnessed by some eighty friends of the bride and family. The ceremony was performed before an improvised altar of flowers and ferns, which was most effectively lighted by the many glowing tapers in tall holders. The bride, who is a charming young lady with a host of warm and admiring friends here, where she has lived for a number of years, never looked more attractive than her wedding gown, handsome coat suit of navy blue tulle with accessories harmonizing and carrying an arm shaft of pink and white carnations tied with tulle. She was attended by her sister, Miss Susie Moore, who was strikingly costumed in navy blue tulle dress of modern design. Mr. White was attended by the bride's brother, Mr. Bernard Moore.

Proceeding the ceremony an exquisite violin number, "O Promise Me," was played by Miss Winnifred Fisher, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Brady. The lovely voice of Miss Ouida Mae Youngblood, niece of the bride, of Plainview, was then heard in that lovely nuptial solo "Until." Miss Brady, who was also accompanist to this, then changed the music into the Mendelssohn's Wedding March, which announced the approach of the wedding party.

After the ceremony a reception was held, the most interesting time of this hour being the cutting of the wedding cake, a beautiful pyramid confection of pink and white which centered the lovely flower bedecked table. After guests had enjoyed this the delicious cake was served with punch. Miss Annie Moore, the bride's sister, was in charge of the cutting of the cake and attended guests pleasure while in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. White left Wednesday night for Amarillo, where they will make their home. Mr. White being a civil engineer for the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad with headquarters at that place.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. J. F. Banner of Rotan, Mrs. Umbie of Wichita Falls and Mr. J. E. Hartley of Lubbock.

We will have "outer-apparel weeks," "White Goods Weeks," "Cingham and Percale Weeks," "Hosiery Weeks," "Notion Weeks," "Work Clothes Weeks," and so on.

Each occasion will be an event in itself!

Our Buyers in New York have made extensive plans to provide this Store and the 370 other Stores in this Nation-Wide Institution, with large, new, high-grade stocks for each occasion. Already, large lots of new goods have been received.
